AMPLify your Rock Skills

Study with professional musicians for one week. Form Bands, Workshops in Vocals, Percussion and Guitar – all styles. This popular annual course is open to 13 to 18 year olds and runs from 10am to 3pm Mon to Fri with a performance opportunity at the end of the week. The fee of €145 covers all tuition, music and a snack meal (€220 for 2 family members OR for 2 weeks). Bring your own guitar. The School of Rock takes place in St. Patrick’s Bandroom, Forster Street, Galway.

Cormac Dunne percussion

Cormac is a highly accomplished drummer/percussionist who worked with The Stunning, Rosey, Sean Keane, Cane 141 and The Máimín Cajun Band, amongst others. His teaching skills are much in demand. He will introduce you to the world of percussion and the Djembe, Conga and Bongo, along with special emphasis in ensemble work.

Michel Durham vocals

Originally from Canada, Michel is an expert voice teacher who specialises in the highly competitive field of pop and rock vocals and is currently involved in research in this field. Her course covers singing for both lead and backing vocals, microphone technique, along with performance and audition skills. She has a professional client list and is leader of the Galway Gospel Choir

Rick Harris guitar

Rick is a graduate of the New England Conservatory with nearly 25 years experience of international recording and touring experience with such as Jerry Lee Lewis, Jeff Buckley, Richard Thompson, Paul Brady and the Black Magic Band. He is comfortable in any style of music ranging from rock to jazz. Rick’s emphasis will be to get you comfortable with the guitar and instilling the confidence and enthusiasm to continue into the world of music.
